PARENTAL INVOLVEMENT AND HOME-SCHOOL COLLABORATION

Kanjirowa believes that homeschool collaboration is important to help a child's development. Sharing information on the child's behaviour, learning outcome, need and support strategy is essential.

The school holds that the parents should support the chid's learning process regularly. And the school organizes frequent parent-teacher interaction. It invites parents to participate in the activites and programs.

The school communicates regularly with parents about all activities, programs and their child's learning outcomes. In addition, the school promotes 'Interaction Program' wiith the parents drawing on their varied experiences in a range of fields. The school curriculum guides us to work with the parents and welcomes feedback for the overall development of the child.
